MOTION

Los Angeles City Hall is approaching its 100 year anniversary as the anchor to the City's Civic Center. It is one of the most iconic buildings in Los Angeles, not only for Angelenos advocating for change in their communities but throughout the world as symbols in numerous movies and television shows.

Located in the section of the city where its commercial and social activities were centered a century ago, the building stands as a Distinct landmark in an area that transformed into the Civic and Administrative Center of the City and County of Los Angeles.

Careful architectural details were incorporated into every aspect of the building to pay homage to the history of the area and California as well as industries that helped to build the City into the social and economic engine of the Western United States.

One area that looked to incorporate a nod to all the States that were part of the Nation at the time of construction were the pillars in the City Council Chambers. The twelve marble columns are monolithic, with varying characteristics of the three kinds. The panels on each of the four sides of every capital contain designs emblematic of several states of the Union. The 1928 Public Works book, written by George P. Hales, and was published upon completion of the building notes that California is represented by the Grizzly Bear, Texas by the Star, Massachusetts by the Codfish. However, the remaining 45 States are not referenced and we have no record of the remaining states' emblems.

Maintaining the History of City Hall is important and tells the story of our City and the people that built it.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the Council DIRECT the Chief Legislative Analyst, with the assistance of Project Restore, to research and report on which State is represented by each engraving within the Council Chambers.

AD HOC COMMITTEE ON UNARMED
CRISIS PREVENTION INTERVENTION
AND COMMUNITY SERVICES
MOTION

Over the past three years, the City has built the foundation for a care-first crisis response model that is reducing police workload, saving money, preserving life, and restoring public trust. In 2024, the City began what is now known as the Unarmed Model of Crisis Response (UMCR) pilot, allowing for certain neighborhoods to participate in a program that seeks to dispatch city and county services first to certain eligible calls for service, and law enforcement only when necessary. The pilot was recently extended into a 2-year program due to its success, demonstrating clear savings and cost-effective spending of taxpayer dollars.

The UMCR program has been extremely successful, with the City responding to more than 17,000 calls for service, of which over 96 % have been resolved without any police involvement. These outcomes affirm a long-standing community demand: public safety and public health must be integrated, not kept in isolation from one another. UMCR's success has allowed thousands of LAPD patrol hours to be redirected toward serious and violent emergencies, while connecting Angelenos in distress and crisis to mental health care, housing resources, and peer support.

Alongside UMCR, the City has expanded additional community-based interventions, such as the CIRCLE (Crisis and Incident Response through Community-Led Engagement) program, and strengthened collaboration with the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (DMH) through the County's Alternative Crisis Response (ACR) network. Together, these initiatives represent a major systemic and cultural shift in how Los Angeles defines and delivers public safety, prioritizing community safety through care, clinical problem-solving, and fiscal responsibility. The CAO should report on the 2025-2026 adopted City Budget instruction and report on the creation of a new department to house all functions related to unarmed crisis response.

The CAO's June 2025 report confirms that the next step for the City is to enhance dispatch coordination and technology alignment. Currently, calls involving nonviolent crises are handled across multiple systems. These calls are dispatched by 911 or a non-emergency number, as well as various County departmental hotlines, each operating independently with separate Computer-Aided Dispatch (CAD) systems and data protocols. UMCR calls are initially received through 911 or 877-ASK-LAPD and subsequently transferred to UMCR dispatch. However, the absence of shared systems and real-time data interoperability limits operational efficiency and service outcomes. Implementing real-time data sharing would strengthen accountability, improve response effectiveness, and ultimately save lives.

To address these gaps, the City must continue advancing toward a coordinated, clinically informed, and technology-integrated crisis response framework that improves alignment across all crisis response systems. This level of coordination is foundational to the proposed Department of Community Safety and to the City's broader efforts to strengthen unarmed, care-first responses to non-violent crises. Achieving these outcomes requires a formal structure for interagency accountability to reduce fragmentation among 9-1-1-dispatched services, improve response times, and ensure consistent implementation citywide. Accordingly, the City Administrative Officer should report back on the implementation of the UMCR pilot and related efforts and, in consultation with the Chief Legislative Analyst, prepare to convene public meetings across the City to ensure meaningful community input into the ongoing modernization of Los Angeles' community safety infrastructure.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the council DIRECT the City Administrative Officer (CAO) to permanently adopt the ongoing UMCR pilot, while ensuring that County services associated with the program remain.

I FURTHER MOVE that the council DIRECT the City Administrative Officer (CAO) to establish and coordinate a Crisis Response Dispatch Working Group that includes LAPD, LAFD, CIRCLE, UMCR, and all other alternative crisis response programs that are dispatched through 9-1-1 to create a more coordinated dispatch system and report back on changes to the system in order to centralize unarmed crisis response dispatch and deployment, reducing system fragmentation, improving response times, and ensuring appropriate, care-first responses to non-violent crises.

I FURTHER MOVE that the council DIRECT the City Administrative Officer (CAO), and the Chief Legislative Analyst (CLA), with the assistance of LAFD, LAPD, report to Council on the status of the Department of Community Safety, as included within the adopted budget action for FY 25-26, CF: 25-0600 (Exhibit H, Instruction 49), and that CAO and CLA conduct a community engagement process that ensures meaningful input from residents, neighborhoods, and community-based organizations, service providers, and labor partners across the city.

PLANNING & LAND USE MANAGEMENT

The property located at 2126 W. Adams Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90018 and 2125 W. 26th Place, Los Angeles, CA 90018—currently operated by E&B Natural Resources as the Murphy Drill Site—has generated numerous neighborhood complaints concerning excessive noise, noxious odors, and non-compliance with City and State requirements, such that in February 2023, the Zoning Administrator determined that additional and modified conditions are required for the continued operation of the Murphy Oil Drill Site to increase the protection of and to preserve the health, safety and general welfare of the residents and stakeholders of the neighborhood, and to afford greater protection to surrounding property and to address the nuisance conditions which were demonstrated by substantial evidence. In 2024, the South Los Angeles Area Planning Commission sustained the aforementioned Zoning Administrator's determination.

However, since the City's corrective actions above, reports of continued non-compliance and complaints of noxious odor, air quality, and operational lapses persist. Residents of Council District 10 report that, as of November 16, 2025, at least 52 operating hour violations were documented in 2025 alone.

This situation needs to be corrected immediately through the City's land use regulatory controls; therefore, the necessary nuisance abatement investigation(s) need to be initiated by the Planning Department, with the assistance of the Department of Building and Safety and Police Department, and in consultation with the City Attorney.

Los Angeles Municipal Code (LAMC) Chapter 1A, Section 13B.6.2, Nuisance Abatement/Revocation, allows the Zoning Administrator to modify, discontinue, or revoke any land use or discretionary zoning approval if it is found to jeopardize or adversely affect the public health, peace, or safety of persons residing or working on the premises or in the surrounding area; constitute a public nuisance; resulted in repeated nuisance activities; adversely impact nearby uses; violates any provision of Chapter 1A or Chapter I of the LAMC, or any other city, state, or federal regulation, ordinance, or statute; violate any condition imposed by a prior legislative or discretionary land use approval; or violate an approval initiated by application of a property owner or owner's representative related to the land use.

It is through the City's land use regulatory controls that community members are protected through the maintenance of the public peace, health, and safety of persons living or working in communities and neighborhoods Citywide. Therefore, it is imperative to address these detrimental quality of life activities, and take corrective action as soon as possible, thereby preventing escalation and drain of City enforcement resources.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the Council instruct the Planning Department, with the assistance of the Department of Building and Safety and Police Department, and in consultation with the City Attorney, to investigate any matters of reported nuisance activities occurring onsite at the property located at 2126 W. Adams Boulevard, Los Angeles, CA 90018 and 2125 W. 26th Place, Los Angeles, CA 90018; and thereafter, the Zoning Administrator may initiate Administrative Nuisance Abatement Proceedings per LAMC Section 12.27.1; Chapter 1A Section 13B.6.2; and prepare the necessary reports and recommendations, conduct the required public hearings, and thereby protect the public peace, health, and safety of the community by imposing corrective conditions to address the reported nuisance activities that are occurring onsite at the property.

MOTION

Over the past several years, the City of Los Angeles has faced an increasing frequency of natural disasters and emergency events, including wildfires, extreme heat, flooding, windstorms, civil unrest, and public health emergencies. These incidents place growing demands on the City's ability to prepare for, respond to, and recover from emergencies while maintaining continuity of essential services and protecting public safety.

As climate impacts intensify and population density increases, emergency incidents are becoming more complex, more frequent, and more resource-intensive. The scale of these challenges requires a strong, well-resourced Emergency Management Department with experienced staffing, operational capacity, and coordination authority to meet the needs of residents, businesses, and City departments across all phases of emergency management.

Los Angeles is the second-largest city in the nation, with a vast geographic footprint, diverse communities, and critical infrastructure systems that rival major global cities. Given this scale, it is essential that the City's emergency management capabilities reflect the size, complexity, and risk profile of Los Angeles. Ensuring adequate investment in emergency management is a core responsibility of municipal governance, as Los Angeles faces greater risk than most jurisdictions, with exposure to 16 of the 18 natural hazard types identified by the Federal Emergency Management Agency's National Risk Index.

Other large municipalities across the country have made significant investments in their emergency management departments to strengthen preparedness, response coordination, staffing capacity, and disaster recovery efforts. A comparative evaluation of how Los Angeles aligns with peer cities can help identify best practices, resource benchmarks, and opportunities to strengthen the City's emergency management framework.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the Council DIRECT the Emergency Management Department, with the assistance of the City Administrative Officer and the Chief Legislative Analyst, to report on the following:

- Current staffing levels, budget, organizational structure, and overall operational capacity
- Whether existing resources are sufficient to meet the increasing frequency, severity, and scale of emergencies facing the City
- A comparative analysis of emergency management departments in other large cities and jurisdictions, including staffing ratios, budget allocations, core responsibilities, and organizational models.
- Recommendations for any additional staffing, funding, or structural changes necessary to ensure the City is adequately prepared to plan for, recover from and respond to future emergencies

TRANSPORTATION

Currently, the Police Department (LAPD) issues citations the old-fashioned way - using a citation booklet. This requires an officer to fill out information by hand, which takes time and can result in errors. However, a number of jurisdictions have begun issuing "E-citations." These citations are digital, and are completed on a mobile phone or tablet, and then either delivered electronically or printed out using mobile printers. This process is much faster than hand writing citations, and eliminates issues with legibility while increasing accuracy.

As the City looks for ways to streamline processes and make work more efficient, especially with sworn staffing at the lowest in decades, the City should look at implementing a pilot program for E-Citations. This pilot program should include a real-time data analytics dashboard that provides the Department with detailed insights into where, when, and by whom citations are issued, presented in an intuitive map-based view with robust filters to support advanced analysis that improves resource allocation and accountability for officer traffic enforcement. In addition, the program must capture all mandated Racial and Identity Profiling Act (RIPA) data elements required under State law to ensure accurate, complete, and compliant data collection for every applicable stop and citation. As not all residents may have access to smartphones or computers, this Pilot must also include a way for digital citations to be printed on paper.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the Police Department, with the assistance of the Chief Legislative Analyst, the Department of Transportation, and other relevant departments, BE DIRECTED to report on the feasibility of establishing a cloud-based, paperless, real-time parking, traffic citation, and data analytics pilot program for the City that ensures that citation data is immediately accessible to motorists, courts, and the issuing agency, and that provides multilingual, mobile accessible citation views and SMS reminders, notifications generated at the time of issuance to help motorists more easily understand and resolve their citations; and

I FURTHER MOVE that the report shall specifically include:

- A plan to identify a suitable pilot location or operational unit
- A cost-benefit analysis detailing the potential savings to taxpayer dollars through reduced hardware, paper, and infrastructure costs, as well as the value of increased officer efficiency, morale, and performance
- A strategy for seamless digital integration with the City's existing systems and the courts to ensure the streamlined, digital forwarding of citation data
- A detailed plan for ensuring equitable access and service continuity for all residents, particularly those without regular access to digital devices.

PUBLIC WORKS

The City of Los Angeles has experienced record rainfall over the past several weeks, with precipitation levels approaching or exceeding seasonal averages, placing extraordinary stress on the City's street infrastructure. On January 14, 2026 the Los Angeles Times reported that Los Angeles streets are "awash in potholes" following the recent storms, with City crews repairing thousands of potholes, while acknowledging that many additional hazards remain unidentified or unreported, making commutes increasingly treacherous for residents and workers.

These potholes pose significant public safety risks, including vehicle damage, loss of vehicular control, increased collision risk, and hazards to bicyclists, motorcyclists, pedestrians, and emergency responders. Further, equitable delivery of basic City services requires that pothole identification and repair occur fairly across all neighborhoods, including communities that have historically experienced delayed street maintenance response times or underinvestment in roadway conditions.

However, the Bureau of Street Services (StreetsLA) continues to operate under budgetary constraints while facing increased overtime costs, equipment demands, and liability exposure due to storm-related roadway deterioration. As such, a clear, data-driven understanding of the number, location, severity, and repair status of new potholes resulting from the recent storms is necessary to prioritize public safety hazards, allocate resources equitably, and plan for both short-term repairs and long-term street resilience.

I THEREFORE MOVE that StreetsLA report back on:

- A citywide inventory of potholes identified since December 24, 2025, attributable to storm activity, including location and repair status, in a format suitable for mapping and regular updates;
- An analysis of pothole repair response times during the recent storms, disaggregated by Council District, identifying service disparities and strategies to improve equitable response; and
- Identification of potholes presenting elevated public safety risks and recommended prioritization criteria for repair.

I FURTHER MOVE that the CAO report back with the fiscal impacts and budget constraints associated with storm-related pothole operations; and alternative short- and long-term funding strategies to support pothole repair and street maintenance efforts, including reallocation of existing funds, one-time funding sources, and available state or federal funding opportunities.
